

Department of Biomedical Physiology and Kinesiology
M.Sc. Research Proposal

The research proposal helps you to establish the objectives, methodology and scope of your thesis project at an early stage of your degree and provides an opportunity for your committee to influence the direction of your research at an early stage. If you have some data at the time of the proposal, it should be included as preliminary data.