

Centre for the Comparative Study of Muslim Societies and Cultures,
School for International Studies, and Art and Culture Studies
Simon Fraser University

LON KURASHIGE, Ph.D.

Assistant Professor
Department of History
Asian Studies Program
Simon Fraser University

Japanese Immigrants and the Retreat from White Supremacy A Historical Analysis of the Relationship between Nativism and Racism

Tuesday
March 24, 2009
7:00pm

4400 Policy Room
Segal Graduate School of Business
500 Granville Street, Vancouver, BC

Curriculum, 2005

Book review: Japanese Immigrants and the Retreat from White Supremacy by Lon Kurashige. Journal of American Studies, 43 (2009), 1-20. doi:10.1017/S0021875809000000

Lon Kurashige is an Assistant Professor of History and the Asian Studies Program at Simon Fraser University. He is the author of Japanese Immigrants and the Retreat from White Supremacy: A Historical Analysis of the Relationship between Nativism and Racism (Urbana-Champaign: University of Illinois Press, 2005).

For more information, visit <http://www.sfu.ca/~lonk/>

RSVP: 778-782-5100
Email: lonk@sfu.ca
Phone: 604-308-45207

For more information, visit <http://www.sfu.ca/~lonk/>
Email: lonk@sfu.ca
Phone: 604-308-45207