

Grandview Woodland Community Policing Centre
1977 Commercial Drive, Vancouver BC
Phone: 604-717-2932
Fax: 604-717-2923
<https://www.gwcpc.ca/aboutus>

Field practice positions available year round. Apply directly through the GWPC here: <https://www.gwcpc.ca/volunteer> for process. Keep in mind it takes a month in order to go through the application process and minimum commitment of at least 6 months (though, after the 4 month field practice the hours can be reduced to regular volunteer hours a minimum of 4 hours/month). On your cover letter, mention you would like to use the experience as your field practice at SFU.

1. Name of the designated contact person:
Tiffani Andre, Volunteer Coordinator

2. Brief outline of the role of the agency:

To work with the local community, Vancouver Police Department, and other service providers to strengthen the safety and quality of life in the Grandview-Woodland neighbourhood, in accordance with the core principles of community policing:

Communication and Collaboration, internally with the VPD and other CPC's, and externally through community outreach in partnership with other agencies and service providers in the neighbourhood

Advocacy, through presenting police services in a positive manner and actively working to support the community's most vulnerable

Patrol Support, to promote proactive policing, encourage crime prevention and direct relevant referrals to other community services

3. In-depth description of the tasks/role to be assigned to the student:

Students will be participating in various community safety based programs. This includes speed watch, community bike patrol, or in the front office as a first point of contact with residents in need of assistance.

4. Special requirements:

Criminal Record Check

18 years of age or older

5. Placement availability: Year round.