Send applications to hlove@sfu.ca by for a May 1 start date.

:

Volunteer Residential Support Worker (ORF)

To participate as part of a broader community support network by providing assistance, referrals and advocacy for federally-sentenced adult males who are living on conditional release in a Community Residential Facility (CRF). Support residents to ease their transition to the community and assist in their reintegration efforts, with the goal of achieving independence in the community.

Regular hours range from 3PM - 11PM, five days a week (full time) or three days a week (part time)

Residential Support Worker Volunteers are supervised by and accountable time)

The Residential Support Worker:

Relates

Undergoes the successful completion of a criminal record check and an Enhanced Record Check (Reliability Status screening);

Has strong interpersonal, communication, and active listening skills;

Functions as an effective and efficient member of a team, while also working well independently;

Is self-directed in identifying problems and facilitating creative, effective, responsible problem-solving;

Has a non-judgmental attitude, confidence, patience, be assertive in setting boundaries, be resourceful, flexible, and organized;

Is willing to work with all individuals and their families, regardless of their age, ethnicity, religion, personal and criminal history, beliefs or values.

All applicants will be considered for an interview and only shortlisted applicants will be contacted.