Hello and a warm welcome on behalf of all of us at Simon Fraser University! It is my honour to help introduce you to our community, and I look forward to connecting with you in the months ahead.

SFU has a vision: to be a leading research university, advancing an inclusive and sustainable future. Our faculty members are at the centre of this vision, driving our research and academic mission at SFU. During your time here, you will have the opportunity to empower students, produce transformative research that addresses our most pressing global challenges and make a difference for B.C. and the world. As a faculty member myself, I look forward to witnessing the impact you will have on our university.

I hope you will find that our spirit of adventure and willingness to do things differently contributes to your success at SFU. There are many resources and supports available to help you navigate the university, deliver an exceptional experience for students and advance your career, and I encourage you to explore them and take full advantage of everything this university has to offer.

We are so glad to have you here. Once again, welcome to SFU, and best wishes as you start your new positions.
