

Publications and Contributions

Publications

Forthcoming “Making Pregnancy Safe for Women Around the World: The Example of Safe Motherhood and Maternal Death in Guatemala” Anthropology and public health: Bridging differences in culture and society, 2nd edition. Edited by R.A. Hahn and M. Inhorn. Oxford University Press.

2008 “Who’s Judging the Quality of Care: Indigenous Maya and the Problem of Not Being Attended” Medical Anthropology 27(2) 164-189.

2006 “Kaqchikel Midwives, Homebirths and Emer

Conference activities

2008 “Proyecto PADRES: Strengthening parent/adolescent relationships among Hispanic immigrants in Durham, NC” CUExpo 2008, Victoria, BC, May 7th, 2008.

2008 “Three Strikes: Embattled Clients in the Obstetric ER in Sololá, Guatemala”
Intersectionalities from theory to practice: an interdisciplinary dialogue, Vancouver, BC, April 10 12 72 61gersec

2008 “Legacy of Violence: The Challenge of Safe Motherhood in Post-Civil War Guatemala”
Meeting of the Society for Medical Anthropology, Memphis, TN, March 26th, 2008.

2007 “‘Danger’ in Reproduction: Statistical Guidelines as a Health Worker’s Refuge from Post-Civil War Guatemala” Annual 2004 “Using Midwives to Teach Midwives.” Annual Meeting of the Society for Medical Anthropology, Dallas, TX, April 3rd, 2003.

2000 “The Pragmatics of Social Inequality.” Conference of Michigan and Chicago Linguistic Anthropology, Chicago, IL, May 5th, 2000.

1999 “Everyday Interactions and their Effect on Social and Economic Development: A Research Proposal.” Conference of Michigan and Chicago Linguistic Anthropology, Ann Arbor, MI, May 8th, 1999.

1999 “On Anthropological Knowledge.” University of Michigan Department of Anthropology Graduate Student Conference, January 7th, 1999.

Teaching Awards and Experience

Simon Fraser University

2008 “Senior Seminar on Social Science and Health” (HSCI 481)

2008 “Perspectives on Global Health” (HSCI 160)

2008 (required graduate course) “Health, Gender & Development” (GLOH 890-3)

2008 Guest Lecture “Anthropological Methods and Health” (SA 101 Introduction to Anthropology)

2008 Guest Lecture “Maternal Mortality & Indigeneity in Guatemala” (SA 388 Comparative Studies of Minority Indigenous People)

University of North Carolina

2007 Guest Lecture, “What is Participatory Research?” (HBHE 753:Qualitative Research Methods)

2006 Guest Lecture “Ontology, epistemology & Paradigms” (HBHE 710: Community Capacity, Competence, and Power: Community-Based Participatory Research and Photovoice)

2006 Guest Lecture “Qualitative Data and Analysis” (HBHE 710: Community Capacity, Competence, and Power: Community-Based Participatory Research and Photovoice)

2006 Guest Lecture, “Qualitative Methods” (HBHE 750: Applied Research Methods)

2006 Co-Instructor, required graduate course, “Action-Oriented Community Diagnosis” (HBHE 741)

2005 Co-Instructor, required graduate course, “Foundations of Health Practice” (HBHE 740)

University of Michigan

2005 Guest Lecture, “Men and Childbirth” (Anthro 325: Childbirth and Culture)

2003 Graduate Student Instructor, required undergraduate writing course, “Primate Social Behavior” (BioAnthro 368/Psych 338)

2002 Rappaport Innovative Teaching Award, University of Michigan

2002 Undergraduate elective “The Anthropology of Health and Illness” (Anthro 298.201)

- 2002 Graduate Student Instructor, undergraduate elective, "Comparative Cultures" (Anthro 222)
- 2001 Graduate Student Instructor, undergraduate elective fulfilling advanced writing requirement and "race" requirement, "Biology, Society and Culture" (BioAnthro 361)
- 2000 Outstanding Teaching Award, University of Michigan
- 2000 Graduate Student Instructor, required undergraduate course "Introduction to Anthropology" (Anthro 101)
- 1999 Guest Lecture, "Linguistic Relativity" (Anthro 330: Culture, Thought & Meaning)
- 1999 Graduate Student Instructor, undergraduate elective fulfilling advanced writing, "Culture, Thought and Meaning" (Anthro 330)

Field Research

- 2005-7 Durham, North Carolina: community-based participatory research project involving twenty-two months of field research with new immigrant Hispanic community around the issues of structural challenges to healthy family life.
- 2002-3 Sololá, Guatemala: twelve months of field research on emergency obstetric care choice among Kaqchikel women in VIIIth Health District and Sololá hospital. Participant-observation, interviews, observation, recordings.
- 2000-1 Sololá, Guatemala: twelve months of language learning and preparatory field research. Participant-observation, interviews.
- 1999 Petén, Guatemala: two months as a research assistant to Prof. Scott Atran investigating relative valuing of local tree fauna among two different ethnic groups. Survey interviews.
- 1999 Xth Region, Chile: one month of pre-dissertation research on transformations in social sector contracting.
- 1992-5 Guanacaste, Costa Rica: twenty-seven months working in a small rural village in the Integrated Community Development Program with U. S. Peace Corps.

Languages

- Š Spanish: Fluent
- Š Kaqchikel Maya: Proficient in reading, writing and speaking
- Š German: Proficient in reading, writing and speaking

Professional Services

National Service

- 2006-8 Member, Prize Committee for The Most Notable Recent Collection Award, Council on Anthropology and Reproduction

- 2006 Reviewer for Social Science & Medicine; Culture, Medicine and Psychiatry; and Childhood
- 2005 Reviewer for Global Public Health
- 2005 Co-Organizer & Chair of panel: The Anthropology of Reproduction and the Man-Woman Pendulum. Annual Meeting of the American Anthropological Association, Washington, D.C. December 1, 2005.
- 2005 Chair of panels: Coping with Uncertainty: Paradigms of Risk and Blame; Clashing Cultures: Gender, Modernity and Reproductive Health; Perinatal Politics; Reproduction at the Intersection of

- 2000 Institute for Social Research (ISR) Research Center for Group Dynamics Workshop: Methods in Cultural Psychology, University of Michigan, August 7-18.
This two-week workshop taught by Dr. Shinobu Kitayama brought together 14 scholars from around the world to participate in a course on methods.
- 1998- Ford Seminar in the Social Sciences and Area Studies, University of Michigan
2000 Brought together selected graduate students from social science departments on a bimonthly basis to discuss methodological, epistemological, and ethical issues related to the interaction of disciplines and area studies; served as a context in which to develop dissertation projects.
- 1998 Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR) Summer Program in Quantitative Methods of Social Research, University of Michigan, June 22-August 14
Completed coursework in Introduction to Statistics and Data Analysis I & II.

Professional Memberships

- § American Anthropological Association
- § Society for Latin American Anthropology
- § Guatemalan Scholars Network
- § American Ethnological Society
- § Association for Feminist Anthropology
- § Society for Medical Anthropology
- § Society for Linguistic Anthropology
- § Council on Anthropology and Reproduction
- § Latin American Studies Association
- § American Public Health Association