

Students in History at SFU have the option of taking concentrations to enhance their programs

Concentration in British and Irish History

Students may qualify for the concentration by completing:

HIST 215-3 The Making of the British Isles
A survey of the developments that have shaped the history of the British Isles from Roman antiquity to the present

Plus one of:

HIST 315-4 Politics and Society in England 1500-1707
Social and political history of Tudor and Stuart England

HIST 316-4 English Society since the Mid 18th Century
Society, culture and politics from the accession of George III to the present

HIST 339-4 British Empire and Commonwealth
History of the Rise and Decline of the British Empire and the origin of the Commonwealth

HIST 362-4 Ireland from the Penal Era to Partition
Examines key social, economic, political and intellectual developments in Ireland from the 18th to the mid-20th centuries

Plus Four of:

HIST 404-4 Religion, Society and Politics in England, 1530-1640
Development and impact of Protestantism within English society

HIST 407-4 Popular Culture in Great Britain and Europe
Culture in Great Britain and Europe since 1500

HIST 413-4 Britain and Europe in the 20th Century
An examination of Britain's ambiguous relationship with Europe and beyond in the 20th century

HIST 415-4 Victorian Britain
Major social, cultural, political, religious and economic developments during the rise of industrial and class society

HIST 462-4 Religion, Ethnicity, and Politics in Twentieth-Century Northern Ireland
Explores the creation of Northern Ireland

Studies in History courses may also be considered when the topic is relevant.

Students interested in this concentration should see the History Advisor.