Project Description

About the project

Water sports are becoming more popular each year, yet there are some safety issues that prevent many to try out. For example, kayaking is a fun activity that allows the user to sit very close to the water surface and paddle to their destination or enjoy a cruise. Unfortunately, kayaking could become difficult for some with limited arm strength, joint pain/arthritis or simply experiencing fatigue. Without any communication systems, a person may be stranded on a kayak not knowing what to do. And even worse, s
