

PHILOSOPHY 100

KNOWLEDGE AND REALITY

1. The world is as it appears to us.
2. The world is as it is, independent of us.

3. The world is as it is, independent of us, but we can only know it as it appears to us.

4. The world is as it is, independent of us, but we can only know it as it appears to us, and this is because of the limitations of our senses and our minds.

5. The world is as it is, independent of us, but we can only know it as it appears to us, and this is because of the limitations of our senses and our minds, and because of the limitations of our language.
