

PHYSICS 110

P. HOBAN

SPRING SEMESTER 2000

REQUIRED TEXT:

Text and Physics by Ashby and Madsen, Introductory Physics

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is designed to provide a solid foundation in physics, covering mechanics, electricity, and magnetism. The course is intended for students who are interested in pursuing a career in science or engineering. The course is taught in a lecture format, with laboratory experiments to illustrate the concepts discussed in the lectures. The course is a prerequisite for Physics 111 and 112.

The course is designed to provide a solid foundation in physics, covering mechanics, electricity, and magnetism. The course is intended for students who are interested in pursuing a career in science or engineering. The course is taught in a lecture format, with laboratory experiments to illustrate the concepts discussed in the lectures. The course is a prerequisite for Physics 111 and 112.

The course is designed to provide a solid foundation in physics, covering mechanics, electricity, and magnetism. The course is intended for students who are interested in pursuing a career in science or engineering. The course is taught in a lecture format, with laboratory experiments to illustrate the concepts discussed in the lectures. The course is a prerequisite for Physics 111 and 112.