10. Integrated Library System Update (Brian Owen)

The migration to a new library system was a large project. We are in the post-implementation phase which is an on-going process, and work continues to sort out all workflows and clean up data. From online feedback we are aware of several areas that still require additional work:

- Data problems or broken links
- Types of access
- Discovery Service – online public access

The new system has also brought some significant improvements:

- 1) Community Scholar Program – running a separate instance of the Primo discovery system to provide access to a subset of our electronic resources with more inclusive licensing terms.
- 2) Leganto - new course reserve module will be coming online in 2018, including better integration with Canvas and better reading list capacity for faculty and students.
