

SPRING TERM 2010 COURSE O

credit for
ARCH 376, BUEC 232 (formerly 332) or STAT 270 (formerly MATH 272 and 371) may not subsequently receive credit for STAT 101-3. Students with credit for STAT 102, 201, 203 (formerly STAT 103), 301, MATH 101 or 102 may not take STAT 101 for further credit. Quantitative.

WebCT Computer Requirements

This course requires active online participation in WebCT (a web-based course management system).

On-campus computer facilities are available, if you are using your own computer, these are the minimum computer requirements:

Hardware

- x PC with Windows NT, 2000, XP, Vista OR Mac with OS X 10.1 or later.
- x 128 MB of RAM for Windows, 1 GB for Windows Vista (recommended); 128 MB of RAM for Mac OS X, 10.2, 10.3, 256 MB for Mac OS X 10.4.
- x 56K baud modem or better
- x Sound card, speakers or headphones, phone (for synchronous courses)

Software and Other

- x Internet connection and e-mail access
- x The latest version of Adobe Flash Player
- x Windows Media Player or QuickTime Player. Windows Media Player is standard software on most recent Windows operating systems. Click here QuickTime
- x The following Web browsers are recommended:

PC	Mac
Internet Explorer 6, 7	Firefox 1.0
Firefox 1.5, 2.0	Safari 1.3

For more information about supported Web browsers and Java Virtual Machine visit this site.

WebCT Access and Accounts

- x Access to WebCT begins on the first day of classes.
- x To access WebCT go to the WebCT site
- x SFU students: Use your SFU computing account ID and password to log in to WebCT. Click here for information about how to get your SFU Computing ID.
- x TRU-OL students: WebCT access details will be provided in your CODE course package.

Connecting to the Internet from Home

- x You are responsible for setting up your connection through your own external modem (e.g., DSL, cable, etc.).
- x Prior computer knowledge is expected (i.e., ability to save files, install programs, and maintain your computer). Familiarity with the Internet, e-mail, and related applications is strongly recommended.
- x Support is not available for general computer problems (e.g., operating system, hardware).

Need Help?

- x General inquiries CODE technical support or call 778-782-5575.
- x WebCT FAQs for students.
- x Help with your SFU computing account or call 778-782-3230, or visit AQ 3148 on the Burnaby campus.