

© 2019 Simon Fraser University. All rights reserved. This document is the property of Simon Fraser University and is not to be distributed, copied, or reproduced without the written permission of the University.

Use of cell phone and computers in class:

Students are encouraged to use their cell phones and computers in class for educational purposes. However, the use of these devices for non-academic activities, such as social media, gaming, or browsing, is discouraged. Students should be respectful of their classmates and the instructor's time.

Recommended Textbook:

Principles of Biostatistics (2nd ed) by Douglas C. Altman, John M. Bland, and David G. Altman. ISBN: 978-0-7030-7523-2.

1