

PhD Fellowship in Urban Sustainability

The School of Resources and Environmental Management (REM) in the Faculty of Environment at Simon Fraser University (SFU), via the SAGA: Translanguaging and Sustainability project, invites applications for a funded PhD fellow. Start date September 2025, for a four year fellowship period.

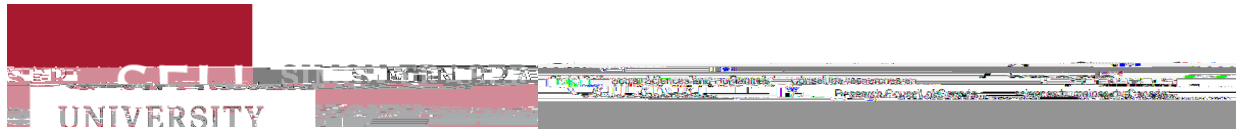

across the unit and the University; rules applying to PhD students in REM are spelled out in the PhD student handbook. SFU offers an excellent academic library and research commons host of training and coaching opportunities, software and tech support, training in research ethics, including community-engaged research ethics, recreational, health and welfare programs, and career services.

at the University of Paris Marne-La-Vallée (Dr. Cedissia

City Media (Kamala Todd). Our specializations include: critical theory, digital translation, research, public and community-based research research, digital translation, research, public and community-based research

The project brings together partners in B.C. and in French-, Danish-, and Finnish-speaking Europe

785jEMcgs26pns0c for 12 -0 0 1.5M8 Td85